

I listen to K-LOVE radio on FM 89.9 Georgetown/Lexington, Kentucky, and AIR1 on 95.3 Wilmore/Lexington, Kentucky. These stations are very important to me. Listening to them during my morning and evening commutes make traveling in traffic bearable. My day would be very unpleasant if I had to listen to some of the other programming choices in Lexington due to the music they play and the ad nauseum advertising featured in their airplay. Please do not allow the broadcast service known as Low Power FM to supplant the broadcast of 89.9 or 95.3 in my area. K-LOVE and AIR1 are two of a very few radio stations in my area to offer family friendly, Christian radio programming with a signal powerful enough to be heard when driving to/from work and while driving around the area on errands, etc. K-LOVE and AIR1 offer very important programming choices in the Lexington area. The stations play upbeat, encouraging music that is suitable for all ages. The on-air personalities are enjoyable to listen to and the music is played without advertising. Unlike another newly-added FM station in the Lexington area which plays Christian music, the no-advertising format is extremely important. For example, this morning while listening to the other station the traffic report was sponsored by "Sex and the City" which is shown on a local station. That type of television programming does not seem in line with the type of programming this station is playing. K-LOVE and AIR1 do not have this problem since they are not bound to accept advertising dollars from entities which may not reflect the same Christian values. Having K-LOVE and AIR1 available to listen to and recommend to my friends is very important and both stations are extremely beneficial and most definitely in the public interest for Lexington area listeners. K-LOVE and AIR1 also offer free public service announcements for local Christian activities and concerts. These Christian events are not given announcement time on the other stations that do not play Christian music. Please do not allow your "Localism" campaign to interrupt the broadcast of these two stations in my area.
